Vendor Guidelines

This Festival features arts, crafts and agricultural products that complement New Mexico's regional wine industry and lifestyle in the southwest. Culinary tools and agricultural products, tableware, wearable art and hand crafted health and body products are popular. Approximately 60 arts/crafts/food/ wine vendors participate.

To submit materials: Send 5 images of what you are selling, along with a description including materials, process, and who made it. Include prices. Also, include SASE if you want images returned. Option to mailing pictures- include website link clearly indicating in your application what items are for sale and a brief description, including who makes them, how and where they are made, and price. A jury will review all applications with priority to handcrafted items related to the Festival theme.

Agricultural Products

If you have food products that you will be giving out as samples, the NM Environment Dept. (NMED) requires that you fill out a Temporary Food Establishment (TFE) application, form_03212016 and provide a copy of your ANSI certified food handler's card. Applications and more information is available online at www.nmenv.state.nm.us. Return the completed TFE form and food handler's card with this application. DO NOT send it to the NMED.
