

Education and Interpretation Intern – Summer 2026

El Rancho de Las Golondrinas

SUMMARY

El Rancho de Las Golondrinas is the Southwest's Premier Living History Museum, preserving the legacy of the land and the cultural traditions of New Mexico since 1972. We encourage guests to get hands-on with history.

The Education and Interpretation Intern will report to the Education and Volunteer Director and will assist with with Education and Interpretation goals during our 2026 season.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Support public programming
- develop and implement hands-on activities and interpretive content
- assist with program operations and event set up
- provide guest support
- assist with museum volunteers

QUALIFICATIONS

- Current college students or early career individuals encouraged to apply
- strong communication & interpersonal skills
- an appreciation for museums and public events
- a willingness to work outside
- Positive attitude and desire to learn

SCHEDULE & COMPENSATION

- Seasonal Internship: Late May – August 2026 (a go into fall if schedule allows)
- Approximately 20–32 hours per week; weekends and event days required.
- Stipend or hourly wage to be determined

Send letter of interest and/or resume to: jackiecamborde@golondrinas.org